Dedicated professionals. Comprehensive services. Community focus. That's a good summation of what our law firm stands for. In my mind, every member of our team is a partner...even if their name isn't on the door.

When we decided to make a change in our health care coverage, it didn't require much deliberation. The verdict—FirstPlan, an affordable health plan created by FirstCarolinaCare that truly represents the interests of the small business. Dedicated professionals, comprehensive services and community focus are what they stand for as well. It's a perfect partnership.
